ABSTRACT

Listed are titles, authors, and dates of research conducted under the auspices of the Department of Child Development, Faculty of Home Science, University of Baroda, India. Studies made between 1963 and 1979 are organized under three general headings: human development; marriage, family relationships, and welfare; and early childhood education. In the area of human development, entries are listed under the subheadings of adolescence, child rearing and socialization, developmental studies, application of tests, exceptional children, and reports. Studies in the area of marriage, family relationships, and welfare are listed under the following headings: marriage and family relationships, child rearing practices, and welfare. Studies of early childhood education are categorized in terms of school readiness, nursery school activities and parental expectations, preschool and intervention programs, curriculum development, and children's literature. Partially overlapping the entries in the listing, a supplement lists on a yearly basis research done between 1978 and 1981. (RH)
